

Llandeilo

Distance: 1.64 miles – Accessible or 1.53 miles

Difficulty: easy

Walking time: 1 hour

There are toilets on this route at Dinefwr Park at the entrance. There are lots of refreshment options in Dinefwr Park and then Llandeilo Town centre at the end of the route on your return to the station

Suitable for wheelchairs, scooters and buggies

This route gives you an accessible option or a walk with woodland pockets as you make your way from the station through Llandeilo to the National Trust site of Dinefwr Park.

1

2

Follow this road uphill, and at the top go straight ahead into Parc Penllan. Follow the main path as it wraps around to the left and continue on the bottom path with the bandstand above you. Follow this path as it wraps around and starts to climb upwards. Before this path starts to turn to the right to head around to the bandstand take the path down to your left to head into Coed Castell.

3

This woodland is managed by the Wildlife Trust. Follow this up and down path as it leads you through the woodland to eventually drop onto a wide lower pathway. Go right here and continue right as this path climbs up to reach the main track heading to Dinefwr Park.

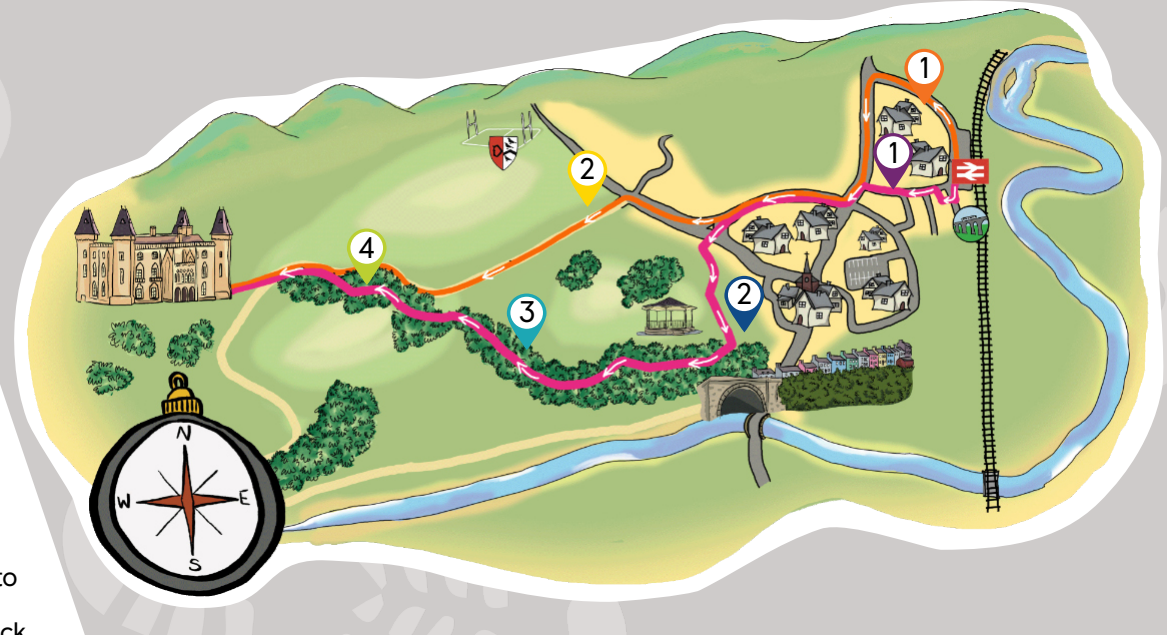

4

Rather than head onto this main track, take to the smaller path on your left to continue through the pockets of woodland which runs parallel to this main track. Follow this path to its end when it will bring you out onto the main track. Go left here and follow this main track as it leads you all the way to the entrance of Dinefwr Park.

Having enjoyed your time at Dinefwr Park, on your way back to the station take the time to head up to the main high street of Llandeilo. As you return back to Rhosmaen Street head right heading uphill and this will lead you to the main shopping area where there are plenty of places for refreshments.

On your return to the station there are more options to explore on the other side of the station. Take the path that leads you behind the platform and across the river over the bridge. Head right here and follow this path all the way to reach a road. Cross this road here which gives you entry into Coed Tregib Nature Reserve.

Routes can be affected by path closures, blockages and diversions. If you find yourself unable to continue with your walk please try to find an alternate route or retrace your steps. Report any issues to your local authority.

Accessible Route

1

2

Follow this road heading uphill and around to the right as it becomes Carmarthen Road. Use a safe crossing point on this stretch to make your way to the other side of the road. After a short while take the entrance into Dinefwr Park on your left opposite the entrance to Diana Road. You are now on the main track that will lead you all the way to the entrance to Dinefwr Park – there is no safe mobility path so take care as cars will pass you on this track.
